One thing Britain excels at is craftsmanship and it is the celebration of centuries old traditional skills combined with bold, eye-catching designs that make Chamberlain & Co's fine bone china creations a must-buy.

Every prestigious item – whether plate, bowl or vase – is unique, with each exclusive collection handmade in very limited numbers in Worcestershire. Once expertly cast and glazed, each piece is exquisitely decorated using a rich palette of special ceramic colours and precious metals, with every stage of creation requiring the utmost technical skill and dedicated ceramic artistry.

Some of our favourite pieces include the Broadway vase in the Heritage Garden collection; decorated entirely by hand, featuring bright colours all finished with intricate 23 carat gold detailing. We also love the striking design of the Imperial Imari collection, characterised by its rich palette of red, blue and gold. Another breathtaking piece in the collection is the stunning Witley Vase, an explosion of floral ceramic art, typical of the King George III era. This vase has been skilfully decorated by hand and embellished with 23 carat gold.

Any of Chamberlain & Co's remarkable ceramic art would make a wonderful addition to your luxury home, or a fabulous gift that will be cherished for a lifetime as an heirloom of the future.
